Northern Lights Club Meetings to Resume September 16th

Hope everyone had a safe and super summer with family & friends and that fishing was a big part of it. Due to being away in Europe in July it was good to receive a call from Dipper and Pickles to head out on August 1st to participate in the Dismal Creek Grayling Project. We fished with Tenkara rods this time which was a new experience. Caught both Rockies and Grayling, tagged a few and we hope to get out there again before summer is over.

September 9th the Hall is not available so make your own (fishing) plans. The fall program will begin on September 16th starting with a club business meeting and finishing up with a Summer Recap and bragging session. On September 23rd (weather permitting) there will be an outing on the North Sask. River. Meet at the Strathcona Science Prov. Park, 17St. & N.106Ave. <http://www.albertaparks.ca/strathcona-science.aspx> The last meeting of the month is on September 30th with "The Flies of Summer" program.

Neil Sutherland's Trout Lakes of Northern Alberta (over 65 lakes) has been updated and posted on our website for those wanting to be more informed about where to fish for trout in northern Alberta it is a great resource with information on lake maps, camping areas, etc.

Neil, great work! Thank you for sharing it with us.

What a difference a year makes! My wife and I try to make it to Jasper at least once every summer and while there I fish the Maligne River between Medicine and Maligne lakes. The solitude and scenery are No. 1 and sometimes the fishing is good too. This year there was a fire which started on July 9th and burned about 80% of the vegetation of the lower West side of Medicine Lake and some of the North end on the east side. As sad as it is to witness the results it reminds of the cycles of a forest's life. Glad I have the photos from previous years.
